

Matt Davis, ACIP, EDFP
Vice President of Real Estate
Regional Growth Partnership

Matt has been in the community and economic development field for over 20 years, including past positions as the executive director for Williams County Economic Development Corporation; director of community and economic development with the Maumee Valley Planning Organization in Defiance; development specialist with WD Partners, a large architecture and engineering firm in Dublin; planning officer for the City of Upper Arlington; and deputy director of the community development department with the City of Zanesville.

Matt has a bachelor's degrees in urban and regional planning and political science from Miami University in Oxford. He also holds a certification in economic development finance from the National Development Council and is a member of the American Institute of Certified Planners.

Matt lives in Williams County with his wife, Niki, and his two sons, Griffin and Owen. Matt is a Junior Achievement Volunteer. Matt has served on the Williams County Revolving Loan Fund Committee and Transportation Improvement District Board and serves on the Executive Committee for NORED (Northwest Ohio Regional Economic Development Organization).